There are two faces of women: as daughters, wife, or mistresses. Although the face of most women is mild, lovely and with good character, I was amazed to find that most of them have hidden characters. They are sometimes better than men in appearance and character, but they have hidden motivations. The strongest of these motivations is self-interest. When we watch a TV series or a movie, we see a good or a bad character. You may like or dislike the character, but you know what is the real personality of the character. You know that the girl you are going to marry has a nasty mind, or that the husband that you love has been unfaithful. Do you know what the real personality of women is? Although they say that love conquers all, they are all only interested in their future, and not in the future of their children and of the family. No matter what the reason is, women are sometimes better than men in appearance, but what about their real characters? In this article, I'll share with you the deepest and darkest secrets of why girls are better than boys. The first thing you should know is that women are born with a mind much more complicated than that of men. Here are the 10 things that make girls better than boys: What Girls Think Than Boys 1) Girls are more independent Girls are born with an inclination to be independent. Most boys have a desire to be dependent, for example, most men like to stay home and watch TV or play on their computer. However, girls are more independent and they tend to be independent. Girls start to think and behave in their own ways as soon as they are born. They are highly demanding and responsible, in fact, you cannot trust a girl who is not good at work, or to carry out instructions. 2) Girls have more analytical thinking skills than boys Girls are born with a greater intellectual capacity than boys, the latest research shows that girls are born with a superior "language system", so that she can think logically and rationally. However, boys have more rapid and easier to use "language system". Their language system has not been trained to be considered in their thinking. In fact, for many boys, it is not necessary to think anything, they are able to
